The specific parameters vary depending on the disease or condition being assessed. For example, in cardiac conditions, parameters like ejection fraction or arrhythmias might be included, while in infectious diseases, parameters such as fever magnitude and white blood cell count are relevant.

Scoring Methodology

The scoring system assigns numerical values to each parameter based on clinical thresholds or severity levels. These values are then summed to produce an overall score, which correlates with disease severity or prognosis.

A typical process involves:

- Assessing each parameter according to standardized criteria.
- Assigning points for each parameter based on the degree of abnormality.
- Adding all points to obtain the total Simon Boccanegra score.

For example, in a simplified model:

- Normal vital signs: 0 points
- Mild abnormality: 1 point
- Moderate abnormality: 2 points
- Severe abnormality: 3 points

The total score can then categorize the patient's condition into different severity levels, such as mild, moderate, or severe.
